

You are precious!

Do you know that you are a man of great value and that your worth is not based on what you do, but on who you really are? Understanding this has changed my life forever. I once believed that I had to make an effort or acquire things to have value. Yet my worth was already in me. I simply had to become aware of it!

*Diamond jewelry is expensive, right? Everyone knows that the diamond, a precious stone found only in the depths of the earth, is valuable even before it is discovered; this is why diamonds are so coveted. In truth, the value of a diamond does not depend on who makes it into jewelry, but rather on its creator. This is also the case for you. Indeed, from the day of your birth your value was already in you and will never change, because it comes from your creator, God. Moreover, here is what He says about you:
" Because you are precious in my eyes, and honored, and I love you "*

So, your situation, your history, your reputation, your status in society or even where you come from do not determine your value. You have had situations that make you feel you are worthless? I want to tell you this: "Even in the mud, a pearl is still a pearl."

Our society defines the value of a person based on his possessions, achievements or appearance. This is probably why you don't feel you have great worth. You don't like yourself because no one ever told you that you were handsome or precious.

You know what? A diamond can only be recognized by an expert. In the eyes of most people, it is just a stone covered with soil. Thus, if some people don't see your value, don't let it become a subject of sadness and torment.

The ultimate expert is God. He created you, so he knows better than anyone your worth, a worth that does not depend on any human being. For God, you are a wonderful creature, a pearl of high price. The opinion of your entourage or of society in general does not matter. What matters is what God thinks of you. Starting today, learn to love yourself as God loves you and to value yourself as He does.

I invite you to say this prayer:

Eternal God, my creator, I thank you for this truth that is now rooted in my heart. I am valuable to you. It does not depend on what others think or say about me. My worth does not depend on circumstances. My worth is already in me, and it was you who gave it to me. Teach me to love myself as you love me and to be aware of it every day. Amen!

If you have never made Jesus Christ the savior and Lord of your life, I invite you to pray this prayer:

God Creator, I thank you for your love for me. You gave your only begotten Son for me so that I might have eternal life. Today I make the decision to believe in Jesus Christ. Forgive me all my sins. I open my heart to Jesus and accept him as my Savior and the Lord of my life. Thank you so much for writing my name in the Book of Life. I become a son of God from this moment. In the Mighty name of Jesus Christ, amen!

You are worth more than what you think,

In the same way that people who know the value of diamonds look for them all over the earth, He who knows your true value looks everywhere for you. To understand the value of a thing, one must consider its purchase price. When you become aware of the price paid for you, you understand your value and the place you occupy in the heart of He who has paid the price.

Many men seek their value from women, or from material things or from money. Yet despite their efforts, they do not feel valued. Why? Simply because they are looking in the wrong place.

Their true value lies elsewhere. I would like to present the one who paid the highest price for you: "For God loved the world so much that he gave his only Son, that whoever believes in him may not perish but have eternal life." God gave his precious, his only Son, to redeem you. You were redeemed at a very high price. Yes, God himself through his Son Jesus who came to earth to give his life to save you. Your value is determined by the price of the ransom that was paid for your life, that is, the death of Jesus on the cross. That is the reason you should not devalue yourself.

If you have not yet accepted Jesus as your Savior and Lord, I invite you to do so today. After receiving Jesus into your heart and confessing him through your mouth, the Spirit of God will come to dwell in you. He will reveal Christ's thought about you. He will help you to embrace your identity as a child of God, to understand your value and to walk in victory. It is the Spirit of God who will reveal all these things, teach you what you must know, and complete your inner restoration.

If you have never made Jesus Christ the savior and Lord of your life, I invite you to pray this prayer:

God Creator, I thank you for your love for me. You gave your only begotten Son for me so that I might have eternal life. Today I make the decision to believe in Jesus Christ. Forgive me all my sins. I open my heart to Jesus and accept him as my Savior and the Lord of my life. Thank you so much for writing my name in the Book of Life. I become a son of God from this moment. You Are Loved,

You know it's natural to love someone who treats you well. It may be that since childhood you have learned you must always do something to deserve something else. Because of this, you often perform to get attention and love from your family and friends. At the same time, you have always heard that God loves you. Perhaps you never understood the truth of God's love because of the way people in your life have treated you. God takes pleasure in loving you without conditions. Unfortunately, people's behavior towards you affects your perception of God's love. You come to feel that God's love varies according to your good and bad actions.

This way of thinking does not come from God, but from the world. The lack of love from people close to you distorts your perception of reality and prevents you from understanding that God's love is unconditional. Maybe when we say that God is a loving Father, you cannot accept it because your biological or adoptive father has not been a good father to you. All your life, you have always had to do something to be loved, and you are convinced that with God it is the same.

But it is not the same with God. Why? First, God and man are not comparable. They do not have the same way of thinking and acting. Second, God loves you unconditionally. There is nothing you can do to earn God's love; there is no mistake so serious that it will diminish God's love for you. The Bible tells us: "But God proves his love to us, in that when we were still sinners, Christ died for us." His love for you did not begin when you became a good person. He did not wait for us to be perfect so that we could earn his son Jesus.

This means that even when you do not take into account his existence or his will for you, God continues to do you good. He does not treat you according to your actions, but according to who he is, Love. If you think that there are days when God loves you more and others less, take this thought out of your mind.

Are you tired of begging to be accepted and loved ? Know that Jesus opens his arms of love to you. He says to you: "I love you with an eternal love; therefore, I keep my goodness for you." If you have never received love or felt loved or appreciated, remember Jesus loves you and appreciates you as you are. He even wants to reveal his love to you and the grace that accompanies it. Accept his unconditional love that will never change no matter what the circumstances.

If you have never made Jesus Christ the savior and Lord of your life, I invite you to pray this prayer:

God Creator, I thank you for your love for me. You gave your only begotten Son for me so that I might have eternal life. Today I make the decision to believe in Jesus Christ. Forgive me all my sins. I open my heart to Jesus and accept him as my Savior and the Lord of my life. Thank you so much for writing my name in the Book of Life. I become a son of God from this moment. In the Mighty name of Jesus Christ, amen!
